

Pre-K National Discussion

Promoting Quality Voluntary Pre-K: National Telecast

As part of its 2008 national conference, Pre-K Now is presenting a special "Viewing Event" to engage local audiences across the country in a strategic discussion about how to increase families' access to quality voluntary pre-k. The local event will take place on Wednesday, December 10 at 11:30 AM CST. The conference will feature advocacy and implementation strategies on professional development, collaboration between early childhood programs, and more. A special segment this year will preview the opportunities to support quality Pre-K when the new President and Congress take office.

WHAT: Pre-K Now National Viewing Event

WHEN: Wednesday, December 10, 2008, 11:30 AM - 1:30 PM

WHERE: KETC - Channel 9 Studios, 3655 Olive Street Lunch will be served.

In St. Louis, the viewing event will be sponsored by St. Louis Children's Agenda Partners including:

- Child Day Care Association
- Citizens for Missouri's Children
- KETC - Channel 9
- Office of the Mayor - City of St. Louis
- Parents as Teachers National Center
- Vision for Children at Risk

Due to the capacity of the KETC studio, participation will be limited to the first 100 registrants.

To send an email to register for this event CLICK HERE. Questions? Contact Belinda Boston at Vision for Children at Risk: 314-534-6015 or send an e-mail to vcr@visionforchildren.org .

To visit the Pre-K Now website and get more information on strategic efforts to promote quality, voluntary pre-k for all, CLICK HERE.